

Carlos Aires, De Natura Deorum, Art International Istanbul

took place across the city. There are also newcomers entering the ring, such as All Arts Istanbul, which had its debut this spring and brought together the classical and contemporary scene, ArtInternational Istanbul, is set to take place between September 16 - 18, and will bring together 63 galleries from 19 different countries.

Yet, Director Dyala Nusseibeh says that ArtInternational Istanbul is not following a path paved by these previous fairs. "You could say, instead, that we are joining an existing conversation between many participants, with full confidence that we can contribute in a meaningful way. Amongst these 'participants' it would be equally important to point to the growth of local galleries, the opening of privately funded museums and the presence of international auction houses, all of which have opened the way for an international art fair such as our own to step forward."

For details of all Istanbul's cultural fairs this autumn, please see page 62 of our agenda.

Ansen, Microbiggs Series Jack Nicholson as Jack Torrance from Shining, 2012, Gallery x-ist.